

BATRIK Silicone Pin Mat cushions, protects and organizes delicate surgical instruments for sterilization. Residual moisture collection below the silicone mat is significantly reduced due to our unique elevated "Nub" design. These "Nubs" allow for greater air-flow ventilation and drying.

New Features

- now with more holes to facilitate better venting and reduce water collection
- unique elevated nubs also provide superior venting and a reduction in water collection
- Custom sizes available on request (call for details)
